

The surest form of friendship (Saint Paisios the Athonite)

When we think of the saints, they think of us and help us. So you make friends with the saints, which is the surest form of friendship.

Then you can be alone and live with everyone: with the saints, the angels and everybody else in the world.

» Venerable Paisios the Athonite

Source: pemptousia.com