

13 Σεπτεμβρίου 2015

We're

like nettles.

From a distance, they look green, fresh, like a plain or a garden, but when you get close to them and touch them, then you see their ugliness and feel their sting.

» Venerable Païsios the Athonite

Source: pemptousia.com