

Nobility

is the preservation of the properties of the image of God and the equivalence with the archetype. This is achieved through speech, virtue and pure desire.

I have known one nobility: devoutness. I have come to know what it was we were born and what we have turned out to be.

» Saint Gregory the Theologian

Source: pemptousia.com