

28 Οκτωβρίου 2010

Holy Hieromartyr Neopite of Urbnisi (October 28, 7th century)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English / Συναξαριακές Μορφές

The holy hieromartyr Neopite of Urbnisi descended from a line of Persian fire-worshippers.

In the 7th century, by order of the Saracen emir Mumni (Mu'min), the military leader Ahmad attacked Georgia with an enormous army. After overrunning the central part of Shida (Inner) Kartli, Ahmad dispatched two of his commanders, Omar and Burul, to the capital city of Mtskheta. At the confluence of the Mtkvari and Aragvi rivers, across from the village of Tsikhedidi in the rocky Sarkineti region, the invaders discovered a group of caves and plotted to occupy them. They tried to cross the Mtkvari but were unable.

Read more...

\(περισσότερα...\)