

18 Ιουλίου 2016

To whatever it wants (Saint Diadochus of Photice)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Image not found or type unknown

Independence of mind is the will of the rational soul, which turns immediately to whatever it is it wants. We should urge it to be always ready to turn only to what's good so that with good thoughts we can expunge the memory of evil.