

5 Αυγούστου 2016

Superficial calm (Saint John of the Ladder)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Image not found or type unknown

20160520-1 Worms breed in rotten wood. In the same way, anger adheres to people with very meek external behavior and contaminated calm and tranquillity. People who expel it from within themselves find forgiveness of their sins. On the other hand, those who retain it are deprived of God's mercy.