What governs us (Saint Symeon the New Theologian)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

20160522 2 A soul which is governed by God should exhibit the following features: straightforwardness, meekness, truth, humility, goodness, righteousness and great devotion. It should also have tolerance, charity, sympathy, unfeigned love, composure, forbearance and patience. A soul which does not have these things isn't governed by God.
