Don't ally yourself to the enemy (Elder Iosif the Hesychast)

Don't let your mind be idle and you won't learn evil. Don't look at the shortcomings of others, because otherwise, without realizing it, you'll become a collaborator of the devil and you'll make no progress in doing good. Don't, in your ignorance, work alongside the enemy of your soul. The more you cover up for other people, out of love, the more Grace protects you and guards you from the slanders of other people.
