

22 Νοεμβρίου 2016

A great obstacle (Saint Nectarios of Pentapolis)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Image not found or type unknown

Vanity is empty pride about ourselves. It's hollow externally, does nothing useful and simply pursues the superficial admiration of other people. Whatever vain people do, they do to be seen. Vanity's a great hindrance to virtue.