The virtue of humility (Elder Ephraim of Arizona)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

angels in heaven in glory and hymns. People in their pleasures and their palaces. God the Creator in a cave, in the animals' manger, like the poorest of the poor. What humility on the part of our Jesus! Acquire that humility, my sons. Humility is the most engaging virtue, a garment stitched with gold. Blessed are those who wear it, because they'll acquire an inexpressible spiritual beauty. As against this, the filthiest passion is pride and egotism.
