Priests are often accused of various things. But priests are still people. One person might make a mistake, but that doesn't mean that everybody else is to blame. So, a priest might err, but that doesn't mean that all priests are at fault. And Christ says: 'Don't judge, or else you'll be judged.', because, by the standard by which we judge, we'll also be judged one day. Who are we to judge? We should pray that God will enlighten each and every one of us. As far as we can, we should forgive.
