

30 Οκτωβρίου 2017

It doesn't protest (Saint Nectarios of Pentapolis)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Image not found or type unknown

A wicked conscience is when people transgress God's moral law, living in order to impose their own will, which is whatever their ego dictates. The conscience of these people has been distorted by their darkened understanding and the dominion of the law of sin. It no longer reacts, nor does it protest against the violations of the moral law.