We could meet the needs (Elder Sophrony of Essex)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

God came and showed us that He doesn't want to abandon us but rather that we've moved away from Him. I mean, in the sense that God doesn't force us. If humankind had other principles to live by, we could feed everyone. The funds which are spent on war, even when there isn't one, are more than enough to satisfy the needs of all the starving.
