It's not strange (Saint Nicholas Velimirovich)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

So is it to be wondered at that we don't know how to love our enemies, when we don't love even our friends? Is it odd for a child not to be able to read a book if they haven't learned the alphabet? How can you love a distant stranger when you can't love your neighbour?
