Condign punishment (Saint Nectarios of Pentapolis)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

They've not read, not heard, that those who distance themselves from God are lost.

If a nation wants to recover itself, it has to be reborn morally, cut out decadence and the paralysis of morality, cease from being immoral and sinful, stop injustice, greed, impiety and blasphemy. Open the Church histories and you'll see that, since the world began, every transgression and disobedience has met with appropriate punishment.
