

8 Σεπτεμβρίου 2018

One follows the other (Archimandrite Zacharias Zacharou)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Monastics hover between two indescribable states: the ineffable bliss felt by a spirit steeped in the Spirit of God; and great sadness over the salvation of the whole world. These states succeed each other. Monastics love God and, with God's love, they also love the world.