The sun will die (Saint Nicholas Velimirovich)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

Soon the sun will be extinguished for us. Wrapped in the dark veil of death, we'll be hidden away from it. But, while we live, why shouldn't the sun see us as children who are like their heavenly Father. Let's promise to give such pleasure to the sun and, even more so, to ourselves and our friends. And may our heavenly Father be our support in this, now and unto the ages.
