It's not our business (Saint Luke the Doctor)

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

We forget that, if we judge others, God will also judge us. We forget that we have no right to judge our neighbour, because it's not our business, but that of God, Who is the Supreme Judge and Who alone knows our heart and can deliver a fair verdict. But we judge our neighbours, and often enough very harshly. We don't think that perhaps they've already repented and that their sins have been forgiven because of this deep repentance.
