

The EU, Turkey, and the Islamization of Europe

Ξένες γλώσσες / In English

"WHEN PEOPLE SEE A STRONG HORSE AND A WEAK HORSE, BY NATURE THEY WILL LIKE THE STRONG HORSE." -OSAMA BIN LADEN

by Baron Bodissey

The article below by the Austrian scholar Harald Fiegl was posted on May 15 at EuropeNews. Many thanks to JLH for translating it from the original German.

A drastic change for the worse. What do Islam and full EU membership for Turkey mean for the European model of life?

The EU regards itself as a community of values, a region of security, freedom, prosperity and law and as a unique peace project. The Christian-Western value base is not considered a settled norm, but the moral sensibility and cultural inheritance are a condensation of Christianity and Enlightenment. As such, it is in stark contrast to Islamic and oriental-patriarchal lifestyles with their group identity.

Read more...

\(περισσότερα...\)