by Andri Hatzikosta-Tofalidou

The written works by the Saint indicate his holy passion. His writing and publication of his works was an accomplishment of his godly passion to spiritually strengthen the people of the Church. He could not overlook the fact that both laymen and the clergy were deeply ignorant and that there was a lack of spiritual books those days.

He was deeply disturbed by the realization that the congregation was suffering-“there is an almost general displacement of the beliefs of those deluded by the new deception...”(7th Letter) read more... \(περισσότερα...\)
